

Dilemma!

To Divorce or Not?

For some couples, deciding on a divorce is one of the most difficult decision to make. For other couples, divorce is the only solution to a bad marriage. The following gives some of the reasons couples ended their marriage, and some reasons why some think it is worth the while to stay separated, at least for the time being.

1. A divorcee for 4 months “ There is no reason to hold on to an empty marriage. Beside, he insisted on a divorce.”
2. A divorcee for 6 years “ Spouse was living with another man.”
3. A divorcee for 10 years “ Ex-spouse is an alcoholic. I felt I had to provide a better environment for my son. An environment, which can nurture confidence and goodness.”
4. A divorcee for 8 years “He was an irresponsible person.”
5. A divorcee for 2 and a half years “It was an amicable divorce. Both of us felt we had outgrown the other. He was too much of a philanderer. I think he agrees I deserve better.”
6. Separated for 3 years “I've decided not to divorce him, to give him a chance to turn over a new leaf. I hope he will realize that he has duties towards his wife and children. If he does not come to this realization, I will proceed to divorce him.”
7. Separated for 2 years “I believe that marriage is for life. Hence, I will not have another partner. I place my hopes in my daughter. I go on living to give her a better life.”
8. Separated for 2 years “ I did file for a divorce based on 2 years desertion. My husband wanted to contest. Therefore I gave up the idea, as there is no point washing my dirty linen in public. I know my husband wants to hurt me. In 2 years time, I'll file for a divorce, which does not need his consent. In the meantime, I'll wait patiently.”
9. A divorcee for 18 years “My spouse was unfaithful and physically violent. I know he would never change and decided to end my nightmare, which seemed endless. I have no regrets and never looked back since then..”

Exclusive Oct – Dec 1991

For more Exclusive Newsletters, please visit
<http://helpfsc.org.sg/exclusivenewsletters>